SOCIETY OF PHYSICIAN ENTREPRENEURS

Portland Chapter Meeting

Join us for a networking event in connecting clinicians with tech-savvy individuals to create innovative healthcare solutions. Everyone in the biotechnology startup ecosystem and life sciences community are welcome and encouraged to attend.

Speakers include:

Kenton Gregory, M.D.
Director, OHSU Center for Regenerative Medicine

Dr. Gregory is the founder of multiple biotech startups, including RevMedx, makers of revolutionary expanding hemostatic sponges that stop traumatic bleeding.

Sheila Ramerman
Founder and Principal Consultant,
SJR Associates

Sheila has over 25 years experience in the medical device industry, including 15+ years as a consultant. With her "lab tech" background, Sheila is especially familiar with IVDs and other point of care monitoring devices and is very experienced working with entrepreneurs, startups and small companies. Products include standalone software, neurology, general hospital, orthopedic/physical medicine and arthroscopic surgical devices.

This is a free event and no registration is needed. Refreshments will be provided.
